

Accounting for Profit and Growth

To quote from In The Black – Nine Principles to Make Your Business Profitable by Allen B. Bostrom, CPA, there are “three primary functions of business: Marketing, Production and Accounting. As with a three-legged stool, all three major functions are important, and attention must be given to all three to allow your business to grow. Ignoring any of the three may work for a short time, but eventually your business will suffer and perhaps fail.”

Let Daily Records Accounting Service work on your “Day to Day” Accounting processes, leaving you with valuable time to focus on the Marketing and Production for your business.
